Onepush Content and Privacy Statement

Information We Collect

Onepush and its affiliates collect and use your personal data such as your name, company email address and other company info in order to provide you with the Onepush services. When you register on the Website, we ask for your name, company and email address in order to create an account for you. We also use your information to communicate with you about our services. You can always indicate and change your choice whether you want to receive such communication from us. We also may use your personal data for our internal purposes such as administration of our Website, improving our services, and compliance with our legal obligations.

How We Protect Your Data

Your personal data will be collected and treated in strict confidence and kept secure according to best practices such as firewall user access controls, and secure socket layer (SSL) technology. Access to your personal data will be restricted to a limited number of administrators. Unfortunately, no method of transmission over the internet or electronic storage is perfectly secure. While we work hard to protect your personal information, we cannot guarantee its absolute security.

Your Control of Your Profile Data

Once you have provided us with your personal data in setting up your account, you will have reasonable access to that information so you can update, modify or delete it. You may do this by logging into your Onepush account or send us a request by email (info@onepush.nl). We encourage you to keep your personal settings complete and current. By accessing your personal profile, you also may change your preferences on how we communicate with you.

Data Retention

We retain your personal and company data for purposes described in this policy for as long as your account is active or as needed to provide you services. If you no longer want us to use your information to provide you services, you may close your account. We will retain data to the extent necessary to comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes, operate our site, run operations and enforce our agreements. You may inform us of any changes or requests regarding your personal data, and in accordance with our obligations under applicable data protection law we may update or delete your personal information.

Information We Share

We do not sell, rent or license your personal data to third parties. However, please be informed that we may share your personal data with other businesses (our service providers) for example to enable them to provide their services to us or to you (for instance handling your orders). We require these service providers to protect your personal data adequately. They are not allowed to use your personal data for any purpose not specifically authorized by Onepush or by you.

Onepush maintains offices in the Netherlands, and works with service providers located around the world. By agreeing to our privacy policy you agree that your personal information may be transferred from your home country to third parties located around the world.

Communications From Onepush

As part of the Services, you may occasionally receive email and other communications from us, such as communications relating to your account. Communications relating to your account will only be sent for purposes important to the Services, such as password recovery and notifications about project statuses and important updates to our policies, including this privacy policy. You cannot opt out of these types of communications unless you close your Onepush account.

Your Financial Information

We do not currently collect financial information, as that information is collected and stored by our third party payment processor. However, we may from time to time request and receive some of your financial information from our payment processor for the purposes of completing transactions you have initiated through the services, protecting against or identify possible fraudulent transactions, and otherwise as needed to manage our business. In those cases we will use best practices to protect your financial information.

Access and Disclosure

We also reserve the right to access, read, preserve, and disclose any information as we reasonably believe is necessary to (i) satisfy any applicable law, regulation, legal process or governmental request, (ii) enforce our Terms and Conditions (Leveringsvoorwaarden), including investigation of potential violations hereof, (iii) enforce our Content Policy, including investigation of potential violations hereof, (iv) detect, prevent, or otherwise address fraud, security or technical issues, (v) respond to user support requests, or (vi) protect our rights, property or safety, our users and the public. This includes exchanging information with other companies and organizations for fraud protection and spam/malware prevention.

Information We Collect by Automated Means

USE OF COOKIES

We collect certain information by automated means when you visit our website, such as how many users visited our site and the pages accessed. By collecting this information, we learn how to best tailor our website to our visitors. We collect this information through various means such as cookies, Google analytics, and IP addresses as explained below.

Cookies are bits of text that are placed on your computer's hard drive when you visit certain websites. We use cookies to tell us, for example, whether you have visited us before or if you are a new visitor and to help us identify site features in which you may have the greatest interest. Cookies may enhance your online experience by saving your preferences while you are visiting a particular site. Most browsers will tell you how to stop accepting new cookies, how to be notified when you receive a new cookie, and how to disable existing cookies. Please note, however, that without cookies you may not be able to take full advantage of all our Website features.

TYPES OF COOKIES

We make a distinction between functional and non-functional cookies. Functional cookies are always used. These are necessary for the efficient operation of the website and process personal data only for the purpose for which these data are completed. Non-functional cookies process personal data outside your field of vision. That is why we always ask for your permission before using these cookies.

Non-functional cookies include analytics cookies. These cookies are not necessary for the functioning of the website. Analytics cookies show us which parts of the website need improving and, for instance, allow us to measure the popularity of certain pages. Non-functional cookies have a great variety of purposes, but they mainly enable us to improve our service provision. We can, for example, measure how often our website is visited and discover what information visitors are looking for. Analytics cookies are also necessary to help customers through the helpdesk.

An IP address is a unique identifier that electronic devices use to identify and communicate with each other on the Internet. When you visit our Website, we may view the IP address of the device you use to connect to the Internet. We use this information to determine the general physical location of the device and understand from what regions of the world our Website visitors come. We also may use this information to enhance our Website.

We use the following non-functional cookies:

Analytics cookies:

We use analytics cookies to collect statistics about the use of the website by visitors. By measuring website use, the site can be improved to benefit visitors.

The data stored include the following:

- the IP address;
- technical characteristics, such as the browser you are using;
- the page from which you accessed the webshop.

Tracking cookies:

These are cookies that are used to identify an internet user on a website. By using tracking cookies, we record the internet pages you visit. The information about your website visits allows us to derive your preferences and interests. We can use this information to make personal offers and improve our website.

Advertising cookies:

We use advertising cookies to show personalised advertisements and to measure the effectiveness of an advertising campaign. The advertising cookies are necessary to actually show the advertisements.

BLOCKING AND REMOVING COOKIES

If you do not want our website to store cookies on your computer, we advise you to leave our website

If you have previously accepted our cookies, this notice will no longer appear and you will have to remove the cookies yourself in your browser settings (if desired).

You can also opt to block the use of cookies via your browser. If you block the use of all cookies, our website will work less efficiently. We advise you to block only undesired cookies. You can do so in your browser settings.

By using this Website, you consent to the processing of data about you by Google in the manner and for the purposes set out above.

Other Websites

Our Website may provide links to other websites for your convenience and information. Linked sites may have their own privacy notices or policies, which we strongly suggest you review if you visit any linked sites.

Contact Us

Should you have a problem with our use of your personal data, please let us know and we will make all reasonable efforts to meet your concerns. In case you have any questions or comments regarding this Privacy Statement, please contact us at support@onepush.nl

Changes to the Privacy Statement

We reserve the right to change this privacy statement from time to time and will post any revisions on our Website and may also provide notice to you through the service or via email. Therefore we encourage you to check the Website often to read the latest version. Use of information we collect now is subject to the Privacy Statement in effect at the time such information is used.

Except as set forth in this Privacy Statement, you will be notified when your personal information may be shared with third parties, and will be able to prevent the sharing of this information.
